

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

24245

95

24245.95

HARVARD COLLEGE
LIBRARY

ANONYMOUS GIFT

A Strange Report of Sixe most notorious

VVitches, who by their diuelish practises murdered about the number of four hundred small Children: besides the great hurtes they committed vpon
diuers other people:

Who for the same, and many other like offences,
were executed in the princely Cittie of Manchen in high Germanie the.29.
of Iuly. 1600.

Printed at Nuremberge by Lucas Mayr Ingrauer, dwell-ling in Kramergesse: and now translated out of Dutch, according to the same Coppy
there imprinted.

R

B

AT LONDON,
Printed by W.W. for T. Pauier, dwelling
at the signe of the Cat and Parrets
neare the Exchange.

1601.

W

2424.5.95

✓

*

*Anonymous gift
for Humanities*

The strange Report of

Sixe most notorious VVitches.

Here is not anie Christian (I am sure) but in heart will relent, and with great admiration, lift vp his eyes toward heauen, and stande amazed at the wicked practises of six of the most notorious wicked Witches that euer they heard of: who (giuing both bodyes and soules to eternall danimation) committed so many inhumaine Murders, so many strange Robberies, Pillages, and Riottes; spoyling both Corne and Cattle: causing strange hayle and tempest, and such like annoyances to the inhabitantes of Germanie, that I thinke it a matter worthy to be kept in memorie, whereby the shamefull end of such malafactors, may serue as a notable example to our eyes, a grieue to the godly, and a terrour to the wicked and reprobate people. The names of these vile offendours, and of their wicked dealings, hereafter followeth.

Al li,

First,

242.45.95

A Strange Report of

First, Paul Gamperle, alias Poppenhamor.

Second, Anne Gamperle, wife to the said Paul.

Third, Simon Gamperle, }
Fourth, Jacob Gamperle, } their two sonnnes.

Fifth, Wilrich Scheltibaum, Remorour.

Sixth, George Smalls, Tylor.

These six persons, being many yeeres before this) heide in great suspicion for practising witch craft, yet not any sufficient proofe thereof, be-now taken altogether, neare to the place Dettwenge, in a Cave or vault deep in the earth where many times before they had met and as they thought, there to conspire their from the knowledge of their neighbours, and accustomed practices: and by their conjuring rapled to great a degree of tempest Towmes and Villages were affrighted thereby: But God was willing to hours to remaine in the place, and all their amities so long, and by Dogg broken, making a noise tempest sent out of the place, and to the high Court, and by the like amities, and by the July 1647.

Sixe most notorious VVirches.

chen, who finding them guiltie by their examinations, commaunded them to prison.

But now marke what happened : the Gouvernours Clarke or Secretarie, when he tooke paper in his hand to make a Warrant, sodaynely both his feete were taken from him : by reason whereof he had such a fall, that the huckle bone of his thigh was broken out of ioynt, whereof within three dayes after he dyed.

Herebpon the Gouvernour commaunded them to be searcht by his Officers, where they founde hidden vnder euery one of their cloathes next to their skinnes, a bagge of Swines dounge : which being taken away, stounke so fylthely, that no man could indure the smell. And in Paule Gamperles boosome, (being their principall, or ring-leader) they founde a diuellish Booke of Coniuration, and the picture of a man made in Cinne, holding in his hande a scroole or writing, conteyning these three wordes, Magoll, Cumath, Hellbeza : By the same, were so plainely manifested their wicked practises, that they immediately confessed (without any further trouble) all their murders and execrable feates that euer they had committed in their life times, as it doth well appeare hereafter.

The

Will,

242.45.95

~~✱~~

A strange Report of

The Confession of Paule Gamperle.

PAule Gamperle, alias Poppenhamor, of the age of eight and fiftie yeres, confessed that he had bled the practise of Witch-craft from his childhood, and that he had bin trained by in the same by his olde Graundmother, a woman dead many yeres agoe.

In like maner he confessed, that he had murthered in his time by Witch-craft and sorcery, about the number of a hundred small children.

In like maner he confessed, that he had made lame and crooked ten of the richest Cittizens of Manchen, because they would not forgieue him certaine debts he owed them.

In like maner he confessed, that by Witch-craft he had made away two of his Uncles, to come by their goodes.

In like maner he confessed ten Church-robberies, fiftene Murthers by the high wayes side, robberies by night in Marchants sellers by him selfe done foure and thwentie severall times: and that no locke nor doore could withstand him, but by Witch-craft he could make it open.

Finally, he confessed that in his life time, he had by night spered eight of his neighbours houses, whereby were burned in theyr beddes both men, women, and children, to the number of sixtene: besides diuers other mischiefes by him committed, to the great annoyances of the whole Countrey.

The

A Strange Report of Sixe most notorious

Witches, who by their diuclish practises murdred aboute the number of foure hundred small Children: besides the
great hurtes they committed vpon
diuers other people:

Who for the same, and many other like offences,
were executed in the princely Cittie of Manchen in high Germanie the.29.
of Iuly. 1600.

Printed at Nuremberge by Lucas Mayr Ingratter, dwelling in Kramergesle: and now translated out of Dutch, according to the same Coppy
there imprinted.

R

B

AT LONDON,
Printed by W. W. for T. Pauier, dwelling
at the signe of the Cat and Parrets
neare the Exchange.
1601.

2424.5.95

✓
*

*Anonymous gift
for Humanities*

The strange Report of

Sixe most notorious VVitches.

Here is not anie Christian (I am sure) but in heart will relent, and with great admiration, lift vp his eyes toward heauen, and stande amazed at the wicked practises of sixe of the most notorious wicked Witches that euer they heard of: who (giuing both bodies and soules to eternall damnation) committed so many inhumaine Murders, so many strange Robberies, Pillages, and Riottes; spoyling both Corne and Cattle: causing strange hayle and tempest, and such like annoyances to the inhabitantes of Germanie, that I thinke it a matter worthy to be kept in memorie, whereby the shamefull end of such malafactors, may serue as a notable example to our eyes, a grieve to the godly, and a terrour to the wicked and reprobate people. The names of these vile offendours, and of their wicked dealings, hereafter followeth.

Al.

first,

242.45.95

A strange Report of

First, Paule Gamperle, alias Poppenhamor.

Second, Anne Gamperle, wiffe to the said Paule.

Third, Simon Gamperle, }
Fourth, Iacob Gamperle, } their two Sonnes.

Fifth, Vllrich Scheltibaum, Armozour.

Sixth, George Smallts, Taylor.

These sixe persons, being many yeeres (before this) heide in great suspition for practising Witchcraft, yet not any sufficient proofoe thereof, were now taken altogeather, neare to the Towne of Dettwenge, in a Caue or Vault deepe in the ground, where many times before they had likewise met, and as they thought, there to remaine still secure from the knowledge of their neighbours, sel to their accustomed practises: and by their Witchcraftes rayled so great a storme or tempest, that all the Townes and Villages were greatly indamaged thereby: But God not suffering these vile offences to remaine any longer vndiscouered, brought all their actions to light: and by the howling of a Dogge broken madd with the fearefullnes of that tempest, certaine of their neighbours were brought to the sayd Caue or Vault, where they weare all sixe attached, and the next day, being the. xxiii. of July, were brought before the Gouernour of Man-chen,

Sixe most notorious VVirches.

chen, who finding them guiltie by their examinations, commaunded them to prison.

But now marke what happened : the Gouernours Clarke or Secretarie, when he tooke paper in his hand to make a Warrant, sodaynely both his feete were taken from him : by reason whereof he had such a fall, that the huckle bone of his thigh was broken out of ioynt, whereof within thre dayes after he dyed.

Herebpon the Gouernour commaunded them to be searcht by his Officers, where they founde hid den vnder euery one of their cloathes next to their skinnes, a bagge of Swines dounge : which being taken away, stounke so fylthely, that no man could indure the smell. And in Paule Gamperles house, (being their principall, or ring-leader) they founde a diuellish Booke of Coniuration, and the picture of a man made in Tinne, holding in his hande a scrowle or writing, conteyning these thre wordes, Magoll, Cumath, Hellbeza : By the same, were so plainly manifested their wicked practises, that they immediatly confessed (without any further trouble) all their murders and execrable feates that euer they had committed in their life times, as it doth well appeare hereafter.

The

All,

242.45.95

✱

A strange Report of

The Confession of Paule Gamperle.

PAule Gamperle, alias Poppenhamor, of the age of eight and fiftie yeres, confessed that he had bled the practise of Witch-craft from his childhood, and that he had bin trained by in the same by his olde Graundmother, a woman dead many yeres agoe.

In like maner he confessed, that he had murdered in his time by Witch-craft and sorcery, about the number of a hundred small children.

In like maner he confessed, that he had made lame and crooked ten of the richest Cittizens of Manchen, because they would not forgiue him certaine debts he owed them.

In like maner he confessed, that by Witch-craft he had made away two of his Uncles, to come by their goodes.

In like maner he confessed ten Church-robberies, fiftene Murthers by the high wayes side, robberies by night in Marchants sellers by him selfe done foure and thwentie severall times: and that no locke nor doore could withstand him, but by Witch-craft he could make it open.

Finally, he confessed that in his life time, he had by night spered eight of his neighbours houses, whereby were burned in theyr beddes both men, women, and children, to the number of sixtene: besides diuers other mischiefes by him committed, to the great annoyances of the whole Countrey.

The

Sixe most notorious VVitches.

The Confession of Anne Gamperle.

ANne Gamperle his wiife, of the age of threscore yeres, confessed that in her life time, she had murdered likewise by witch-craft to the number of a hundred small children.

In like maner she confessed, that she had deformed and made crooked, and withall murdered by witch-craft, to the number of nineteene olde people.

In like maner she confessed, that by witch-craft she had caused an Inkepers wiife to runne into a hotte burning Ouen, where she burned her selfe to death: and likewise caused the same womans husband to be so miserably vexed, that he thrust his head into a swelling Tubbe full of Swines meate, and there smothered him selfe.

In like maner she confessed, that she had spoiled Cattle in great abundance, with Corne vpon the ground often times: and that she had set fier vpon two Hey stacks, which had fiered a whole Village, had not helpe of people prevented it. From the like, God of his mercie deliuer vs all.

The

A lili,

24245.95

*

A Strange Report of

The Confession of Simon Gamperle.

Simon Gamperle their naturall sonne, of the age of two and twentie yeares, confessed that he had murdered by Witchcraft, to the number of thirtie small Children, beside sixe old folkes whitch he likewise made crooked and lame, and after killed.

Moreouer he confessed, that he had committed nine Church robberies, foure robberies by the high way side, twelue robberies done in Marchants Ware-houses: Ryot, and Village, committed by night sixe times: spoyled with Hayle and Tempests Cattel and Groundes often times.

Moreouer he confessed, that by Witch-craft he had made himselfe inuincible, by which meanes, he alone set vpon sixe persons at a time, and robbed them, and after killed them euery one: with many other practises of theft and murder, which here I omit.

The Confession of Iacob Gamperle.

Iacob Gamperle their other Sonne, of the age of one and twentie yeares, confessed that he had murdered to the number of thre score and five small Children: beside five old folkes that he had made lame and crooked, and after murdered.

Moreouer, he confessed five Church robberies, ten Robberies in Marchants houses, foure Robberies

Sixe most notorious VVitches.

ries committed by the high way: siue houses set on fire, Ryots and Thefts by night in the strætes, committed twelue seuerall times.

Moreouer he confessed, that by Witch-craft he had caused a heard of Cattell in a Tempest to be blowne into a riuer, and there drowned: and the said Tempest or storme to be so violent, that Trauellers could hardly trauell by the high way: with many other like wicked practises.

The Confession of Vllrich Schellübaum.

VLlrich Schellübaum of Dettwenge, of the age of threæ scoze and eight yeares, confessed that in his life time, he had murthered by Witch-craft to the number of threæ scoze and ten small children, and had made crooked and killed thirtie olde folkes.

Moreouer, he confessed Robberies in Churches, and Marchants Sellars, thefts and murthers by night, Cattell and Grounds spoyled, in such abundance and so often times, that he could not well reckon them.

The Confession of George Smaltes,

George Smaltes Taylor of Peon, of the age of fiftie yeares, confessed in his life time he had murthered to the number of thirtie sixe small Childzen, beside olde people made crooked & killed the number of fiftæne: Murders by the high
B. way,

24245.95

~~*~~

A strange Report of way, Robberies in Villages, Firing of Houses, Robbing of Churches, I thinke it needes not to number downe: but to conclude, it was his custome aboute the rest, to ransake by night dead mens graues, and to make pillage of what he there found whether it were linnen or otherwise: for badder liuers then these liue were, I thinke are not now remainning vpon the earth. Therefore let all Christians pray, that God in his mercy may blesse vs & all others, from the like practises: and to weede from the face of the earth all such like offenders as he did these, and with the like shame and punishment reward them. O God I beseeche thee.

These aforesayd confessions being taken before the Gouvernour, and other Burgesses of the Cittie of Manchen, they were arraigned, conuicted, and condemned: and vpon the nine and twentie of July were executed in this maner and forme following.

First, they were all sixe brought before the towne house of Manchen, where the Woman (being placst betwixt her two Sonnes) had both her Brestes cut off: with the which Brestes, the Executioner stroke her thre times about the face: and in like maner her two Sonnes, who sate on each side of her, were likewise beaten about the face with their mothers Brestes thre times apiece. This beeing done in the presence of many people, the Woman had sixe stripes giuen her with a whip of twisted ier: and after, had both her Armes broken with a wheele, and then set in a settle made of purpose:
her

Sixe most notorious VVitches.
her body was immediatly burnt.

After this, the other siue men-Witches, had also siue stripes apiece, and both their Armes likewise broken with a Wheele, and foure of them tyed vnto a stake in the same place, and burnt: But Paule Gamperle, the father and maister Witch of them all, was spitted aliue, and so roasted to death, and after had his body likewise burnt into skinders.

Thus gentle Reader, hast thou heard the life and death of these siue most notorious and wicked Witches. for the truth wherof, let no man make doubt:
for it is not onely reported of by many men of good sufficiencie, but translated out of the Dutch Coppy as it was there first imprinted. Therefore let vs all in general, fall downe vpon our knees, and with contrite hartes, desire of his Maiestie, by whose sufferance all theyr wicked practises were committed, that he will abate the pride and mallice of Sathan, now reigning amongst mankind, and to put in our hartes such strong fayth, that the like assaultes neuer assaile vs, but that we may serue him in perfect loue and godlines, who is the mightie King of all Kinges: to whom be all prayse, glory, and dominie
on, for euer.
Amen.

FINIS.

24245.95

71

228 J

108 a

1

This book should be returned to the Library on or before the last date stamped below.

A fine of five cents a day is incurred by retaining it beyond the specified time.

Please return promptly.

~~FOR USE IN BUILDING~~

NOV 30 '67 H

~~CANCELLED~~
725-771

WIDE
BOOK DUE
SEP 23 1981
7242500
NOV 19 1981

24245.95
A Strange report of sixe most notor
Widener Library 003726796

3 2044 089 142 608